Thirty-Two Primary Schools Recognised as CLP Green Elites Campuses Embracing Low-Carbon Lifestyle

CLP Power Hong Kong Limited (CLP Power) has awarded Green Elites Campus accreditation to 32 Catholic primary schools in recognition of their efforts to promote environmental education to around 21,000 pupils through a broad range of online activities in the three academic years since 2019. Four of the schools received the Most Outstanding Award for their exceptional performances (See appendix for full list of winners).

“With the accreditation of these 32 schools, more than 100 Hong Kong primary schools have now become Green Elites Campuses which is extremely encouraging,” said CLP Power Chief Corporate Development Officer Ms Quince Chong. “The way our children are taught has been transformed by the pandemic. We are very grateful to schools for proactively promoting environmental protection through a range of activities, including talks, workshops, and online educational materials under the Green Elites Campus Accreditation Programme, enabling pupils to acquire green knowledge and explore ways to embrace low-carbon lifestyles.”

The Green Elites Campus Accreditation Programme is one of a host of initiatives launched by CLP Power in support of the Hong Kong SAR Government’s goal of making the city carbon neutral before 2050. The company is working tirelessly to decarbonise electricity generation, and is committed to promoting energy saving to young people through a range of green education programmes covering the entire education pathway from kindergarten to university.

Primary schools are provided with energy conservation and environmental assessment checklist and education tools under the Programme. They are also offered a series of activities by CLP Power and its programme partners, including school talks, green workshops, visits to CLP facilities, and energy audits, as well as an online Green Elites Portal for pupils.

By taking part in the programme, students learn energy-saving knowledge in a fun and interactive way, and adopt green habits in their daily lives from an early age. To date, 101 primary schools have been recognised as Green Elites campuses and more than 71,000 students have participated in the programme.

CLP Power is continuing its partnership with the Catholic Education Office in the 2022/23 academic year, providing green education activities to more than 11,000 students in 17 Catholic primary schools with support from partners Green Power, The Green Earth, the Environmental Association, and the Hong Kong Observatory.

Three students from Lok Wah Catholic Primary School, one of the winners of the Most Outstanding Award (Gold), became 'green agents' by delivering environmental protection messages through videos. The teachers made use of the windmill in the school to teach students about the importance of energy saving. The school has successfully reduced its power consumption by 10% after adopting energy conservation methods.
